FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sager Electronics Named Schaffner EMC's Distributor of the Year

MIDDLEBOROUGH, Mass. – June 8, 2011 – Sager Electronics, the electronic distribution industry's leading privately held, employee-owned company, was recognized by Schaffner EMC Inc. as their 2010 Distributor of the Year at the 2011 Electronics Distributor Show held in Las Vegas, Nevada. Schaffner is a world leader of EMI/RFI noise suppression solutions.

"Sager Electronics is our top performing distributor. Their demonstrated ability to create new business and grow sales each year, as well as their stellar marketing support are the very characteristics Schaffner uses to select our Distributor of the Year," explained Ken Bellerio, Schaffner's Vice President of Sales, Electronics Group. "We are pleased to present Sager with this distinction for their efforts in 2010."

"Sager has always enjoyed a close working relationship with Schaffner and we are well positioned to provide our customers with an incomparable level of customer support," said Faris Aruri, Sager's Vice President of Marketing. "By not only meeting but exceeding customers' expectations, we've been able to significantly grow our Schaffner business. We are proud to accept this award."
